143 rooms spread over nine floors welcome you in a unique place with an artistic dimension.

The Drawing House is the new establishment in the Drawing Hotel Collection orchestrated by the Drawing Society, a precursor of the hotel industry of the future: committed and thematic, entirely at the service of uses.

This new generation hotel shakes up and reinvents the classic concept of hospitality to suit the needs of today's guests. Maison Mère becomes an authentic, connected, attentive and kind house full of friends, transforming the hospitality experience and way of life. Designed like an actual home, every space is personalised and authentic. Different materials, furniture, accessories, colours and sounds are used to define a clear identity for every living place in the hotel, linked together by a sophisticated common thread.

NOLINSKI PARIS – EVOK HOTELS

Just a stone throw away from the Comédie Française and the Louvre stands a vibrant place of French “Art de vivre” : the Nolinski Paris. This sublime, characterful haven bears the signature eclectic refinement of interior designer Jean-Louis Deniot. A minimalist reception area in Carrara marble. A demand for respect. Excellence in hospitality. Discretion assured in the private apartments of this exclusive establishment, which holds the secret to combining manners and social etiquette with contemporary aesthetics, classic prestige, a touch of genius and dare. For locals and visitors alike.

LE BRACH – EVOK HOTELS

“Brach isn’t a hotel. It’s a unique culture where poetic mysteries and fertile surprises nourish the imagination. Sensual and rigorous, minimal and motley, filled with raw and modernist romanticism which serves the multicultural influences of Africa, Asia and South America. It is an unusual place that invites you to explore and travel.” Philippe Starck
Cultivated, energetic, epicurean and aesthetic, Brach is a true Paris treasure, part of its quarter, with its own codes and a personality and spirit in a healthy body. Generous, family-like, it embodies the values of sharing and balance.

SINNER – EVOK HOTELS

By settling in the heart of the lively, eclectic Marais, Sinner breaks the rules of a luxury hotel. As it reveals its own take on the city, it shares its vision of Parisian style, which is a true departure from long-established traditions. Sinner pushes back boundaries. It captures an irreverence without renouncing the luxury and elegance characterizing the capital’s finest addresses. Staying at Sinner is (re)discovering Paris where religious heritage, history, glamour, and mystery all mingle.
